COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

During the removal of snow from Main Street last week the cooperation from the public in keeping cars out of and removing cars from the work area was very noticeable. It is only with the cooperation of the driver that an efficient and economical job can be accomplished.

Snow removal always brings problems, not only for the home owner, but the town as well. Your attention is called to Chapter 137, Section 23, of the Revised Statutes, as follows: "Whoever places snow, ice or other obstructions in such a manner as to obstruct traffic on a traveled road and leaves them there shall be punished by a fine of not more than $10 for each offense, to be recovered on complaint, to the use of the town where the offense is committed."

A drive has been quietly in progress to collect delinquent personal and poll taxes. At the present time there are nine persons who owe a total of $507.83, of this amount $430.86 is owed by two persons. Taxes for the 1953-54 years have been settled in full. The following amounts are due: 1952 $725.50, 1953 $137.64, 1957 $277.74. There are only two poll taxes outstanding.

To enforce collection the taxes have been left with an attorney or a warrant and summons given to the deputy sheriff. Of this group of nine, one of the two larger taxes is in the hands of an attorney, two are in the hands of the deputy sheriff. Action will be taken against the other six in due time.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

Philippines Honor Gen. James Alger

The Philippine government bestowed one of its highest military honors recently upon Brigadier General James D. Alger, a former Maine resident presently stationed with the Third Armored Division at Frankfurt, Germany.

General Alger, the son of Mrs. Constance D. Alger of Bryant Pond, is a trustee of Gould Academy, where he graduated in 1930.

Awarded the Philippine Legion of Honor for "outstanding service" in Korea, the general was specifically cited for his "untiring efforts and invaluable help" to the 14th Battalion Combat Team, Philippine Expeditionary Force to Korea.

Gen. Alger, a colonel during the Korean Conflict, was Chief of Staff of the 45th Infantry Division, to which the BCT unit was attached under United Nations auspices.

The award recognized Colonel Alger's "keen interest" in the welfare of the troops under his command and his help in "bolstering the morale" of the fighting soldier.

In a special ceremony in the Philippine Embassy in Bonn, Jose Ingles Ambassador to West Germany, pinned the medal of honor on the general.

A written commendation from the President of the Philippines was read by the country's consul to Germany, Leon T. Garcia. In the letter, President Carlos Garcia stated that Gen. Alger had "earned great credit for himself and the United States Army" and by his actions, had "brought closer ties between the U. S. and the Philippines."

Attending the Bonn ceremony was General Alger's wife, a Philippine native. She is the former Consuelo Zobel de Ayala of Manila.

TB RESEARCH SUPPORTED BY CHRISTMAS SEAL FUNDS—SALES AHEAD OF LAST YEAR

Research to improve the care of children with tuberculosis is being carried out in 33 cooperating pediatric centers throughout the country in a study coordinated by the U. S. Public Health Service and supplemented by Christmas Seal Funds. It was reported by Dr. Brin- ton T. Darlington, president, Maine Tuberculous Society, medical section of the Maine Tuberculosis Association.

"The purpose of the study," Dr. Darlington said, "is to find out whether serious complications can be prevented by giving isoniazid to children with first-infection tuberculosis."

"At least 3,000 children, some receiving the drug and the others a dummy pill as the control group, are under observation. Preliminary reports," Dr. Darlington said, "indicate that fewer complications are being found among the children being treated with the drug."

A report compiled by the Maine Tuberculosis Association for Oxford County shows that at the end of the first 13 days of this year's sale that the Christmas Seal Sale was $282.92 ahead of a comparable period of last year's sale.

Dr. Darlington expressed the hope that this trend would continue far to continue this and other important research projects as well as the regular local program activities of the tuberculosis association, increased revenues from the Christmas Seal Sale must be realized.

CENTRAL MAINE TO GRANT CREDIT ON DEC. CURRENT

A credit based on the number of kilowatt hours used in December will appear on the service bills of Central Maine Power Company's general service customers. While the total credit per customer is not large, it does point out the value of the general fuel adjustment provision in electric rates which is responsible for these credits.

As predicted at the public hearings last January, fuel adjustment costs work both ways either upward or downward, to compensate for changes from base cost in the price of fuel burned in steam plants. Water conditions and the cost of fuel oil are the principle determining factors in Central Maine Power's system.

Fuel adjustments are based on 12 months' operations. The current credits are for the period ended Oct. 31, 1958. They reflect the good water conditions which existed through most of the year, reductions in fuel prices, and increased operating efficiency, resulting largely from the new William F. Wyman Station on Cousins Island.

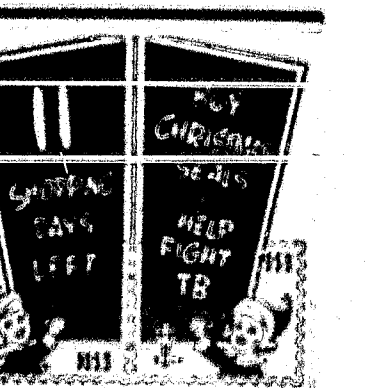

Fuel adjustments were first applied to domestic and commercial electric service bills in February 1953. In February the fuel adjustment charge amounted to one and four-tenths mills a kilowatt hour. Since that time the fuel charges have dropped steadily, if not spectacularly, until November when no added charge was made.

HOW TO MAKE WINTER DRIVING SAFER FOR YOU AND YOUR CAR

IF YOU HAVE A FLAT TIRE OR OTHER TROUBLE WHEN ROADS ARE SLICK, PULL OUT OF TRAFFIC BEFORE STOPPING. TRAFFIC JAMS AND CHANCES OF REAR-END COLLISIONS ARE WORSE ON SLIPPERY ROADS.

IF YOU SKID, STEER IN THE DIRECTION IN WHICH THE TIRE OF THE CAR SLIDES.

EASE UP ON THE GAS BEFORE YOU REACH A CURVE. DO NOT BRAKE HARD WHEN YOU ARE IN THE CURVE. IF NECESSARY, SHIFT TO LOWER GEAR AND "PUMP" BRAKE GENTLY.

ALWAYS HAVE WINDSHIELD CLEAR FOR GOOD VISIBILITY. BE SURE BLOWER WORKS. OPEN SIDE VENTS A LITTLE.

FOR EMERGENCY TRACTION IN DEEP SNOW, A SQUARE OF OLD CARPET OR SOME LOOSE SAND WILL HELP. A PAIL OF SAND IN THE TRUNK HELPS TRACTION BY ADDING WEIGHT.

YOUR CAR IS SAFE NO MATTER HOW COLD IT GETS IF YOU HAVE ANTI-FREEZE, A PROPERLY CHECKED BATTERY AND NEW MULTI-GRADE MOTOR OIL.

"It is becoming increasingly evident that the great struggle of the mid-Twentieth Century between private capitalism and state capitalism will most likely not be settled by war, but by competition in economic growth. If the communist world can out-produce the free world, the struggle for the domination of the globe will be won without firing a shot." NAM News

THE KEY TO CHARACTER

It is said that when Philip Guedalla, the famous English writer, was working on a biography of the Duke of Wellington, that he was puzzled to know what kind of person the Duke really was. He seemed to have built a shell around himself, so that no one really knew him.

Then he found the key. He discovered the Duke's check book, and the record of how he spent his money. For the first time he felt that he knew the Duke of Wellington, for he knew what was nearest to his heart.

He said, "If you want to know a man, find out how he spends his money."

What would people know about you if they know how you spend your money? Stop and think for a moment - what would your check book show?

In his reflecting comedy, "Henry the Fourth" (First Part), Shakespeare depicts one of the most lovable rogues in literature: Falstaff. In one scene, Prince Hal finds Falstaff asleep, and ransacks his pockets. Inside he finds a tavern reckoning, Falstaff had spent many shillings for "sack," a favorite beverage of the time. But he had spent two-pence for bread.

That told us all that we needed to know about Falstaff. His sense of values was apparent.

How about yours? Think over your budget for last week, and ask yourself: "If someone saw my check book, what kind of a report would the world get of me?"

The second grade Brownies met at the Primary School Tuesday afternoon. There were 29 present. We decorated a Christmas banner for the Health Council. We visited the Brownie Promise. Illustrations for next week are Candace Smith and Brenda Robertson. There will be a Christmas party and refreshments.

Brownie Troop 5 met Tuesday with their leaders. After the business meeting we decorated Christmas boxes for the needy which were very happy to do for the Health Council. We also made Christmas presents for our mothers. Next Tuesday both districts will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles Merrill for our annual Christmas party. Each Brownie is asked to bring a 25 cent gift.

Today's teen-agers are pretty nice kids, in my book. I'm not worried about their future or that of our country, which will be in their hands.

For one thing, they like to sing the sweet, sentimental old songs. They sing them with joy and feeling, whenever they have a chance. . . . This may be called naivete by the profound psychologists who wag dimmed heads over rock-n-roll and similar passing crazes. But that doesn't worry me, either.

Perhaps the fast jazz beat gives release to something on the adolescent surface. But the love of the old songs wells up from the depths of the heart. It is no falset or phony attachment. I'm sure, but one with roots firm and deep in every hometown in our homeland.

Their love of the "oldies" is real and sincere, and lasting. Just listen with open ears and mind, the next time you hear a group of youngsters singing!

"It isn't easy, that I know, but still you ought to try it."

"If you can't say good of some poor Joe, perhaps you could - keep quiet."

Stock Market Round-Up

Prepared by The Investment Research Department of The Phillips, Nyck and Co. Members of the New York Stock Exchange

December 10, 1958

ATTRACTIVE CONVERTIBLE ISSUES

Today, with the stock market at advanced levels, the need to protect investment profits from any serious market setback is a major consideration. Equally important is the need to retain a position in the stock market in order to participate in any further advance. One solution to these problems is convertible debentures. A convertible debenture is a bond that allows the holder at his option to exchange his debenture for a fixed number of common shares. These convertibles afford the safety of a debenture yet will appreciate in value if the common stock moves above the conversion price.

Our selections are as follows:

Aluminum Industry 4 1/2% of 1957: Aluminum is one of the leading producers of stainless and specialty steels. Sales and earnings recently have shown an upward trend. Next year's results are expected to exceed this year's by a substantial figure.

American Petroleum 5 1/2% of 1957: This is a relatively new oil company in this country. Representing the large Belgium Petroleum's stake in the United States, it is the parent's objective to build American Petroleum into a major integrated oil enterprise.

Atlantic Refining 5 1/2% of 1957: Atlantic is one of the major refiners in the eastern section of the country.

Boeing Aircraft 4 1/2% of 1957: Boeing is one of our favorites in the aircraft industry.

Burlington Industries 4 1/2% of 1957: Recent price increases in various fabrics and the indicated upward in sales point to higher earnings for this company.

Norfolk Corporation 4 1/2% of 1957: With its new management and widened product line, Norfolk appears adapted for higher earnings and sales during the next few years.

Combustion Engineering 3 1/2% of 1957: This is one of the companies that should benefit substantially when the utility industry again starts ordering generating equipment in quantity.

El Paso Natural Gas 5 1/2% of 1957: This is the largest natural gas pipeline system in the country, and long range prospects are extremely promising.

Fisher and Porter 5 1/2% of 1957: Fisher produces industrial process instruments and automation systems. Next year, with a pickup in capital goods expenditures anticipated, Fisher and Porter's results should improve.

W. R. Grace 5 1/2% of 1957: The stock of this company is down substantially from its high, reflecting recent unfavorable earnings. At present levels we do not believe that the shares (nor the bonds) reflect the inherent long term growth prospect.

Lockheed Aircraft 5 1/2% of 1957: Lockheed expects earnings in 1958 to equal $4.25 per share up from $3.52 per share last year. Next year the company expects earnings to increase about 16%.

Olin Mathieson 5 1/2% of 1957: Olin has been cited as we believe the new management and its policies should be able to reactivate this potentially great company.

Phillips Petroleum 4 1/2% of 1957: Phillips has an excellent domestic discovery record and large reserves. Present prices for the common stock are 24% under the highs of several years ago.

Stetson Oil 4 1/2% of 1957: Stetson has built up a strong refinery and marketing position. Earnings this year, while below last year's, are in line with the industry generally, while next year's operations should show significant improvement.

Carbon monoxide probably is responsible for more winter highway accidents than anyone realizes, the Maine Highway Safety Council warns. The council says that carbon monoxide can cause motorists to become drowsy, lose consciousness and lose control. The best way to avoid this menace is to have a tight exhaust system. If your car has a leak, have a new one installed. It is also wise to admit a little fresh air into the car by opening a window slightly, even in cold weather. Never of course, run the car motor in a closed garage.
